You can certainly go talk with them if you feel it is appropriate. If it was our trucks it would have been Harrod Trucks. For us to have done this, they would have had to come off of 69 and gone south on N. Main and west on W. Short and south on N. Main to E. Cottonwood. The picture appears that the damage was a result of someone coming off of N. Main onto E. Cottonwood.

You may want to go check that path to see if there is any other damage along the path.

Thanks
 Gary Moore

I agree, do you want me to leave it alone. I don't have to talk to the resident.

That would be very unlikely that it would be from any of our trucks since our path at that location would be straight.

(b) (6) on the corner of E. Cottonwood, after looking at it again, I do not think it was the mail carrier.

I found this early this morning, its on our truck path to the site on E. Cottonwood. I thought it could have been from one of our trucks, but we checked the tire width and it is too narrow for our trucks to make, plus the ruts do not make since with how a truck would back up in that area. We believe it is the mail carrier. Take a look and call me. I plan to go talk with the resident about it, and I want to see if you want us to go ahead and fix it or defer to the city?
